

Richard Gere and Lily Tomlin Headline Powerful 2025 Love Wins Film Festival in Long Island

LONG ISLAND, NY, UNITED STATES, April 15, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Love Wins Film Festival returns to Long Island May 3–4, 2025, spotlighting stories that uplift, challenge, and transform. Screenings will take place at The LGBT Network in Hauppauge on May 3 and The Plaza Cinema & Media Arts Center in Patchogue on May 4. This year's lineup features nearly 60 socially conscious films, including projects headlined by Hollywood icons Richard Gere and Lily Tomlin.

Continuing its mission to elevate underrepresented artists, the festival showcases storytelling that explores identity, resilience, love, family, and freedom. Panel discussions, live performances, and collaborations with advocacy groups create space for healing dialogue and grassroots momentum. Partner organizations this season include The LGBT Network, Plaza Cinema, the HIV Stops With Me Campaign, The Retreat—All Against Abuse, Sepa Mujer, and the Huntington Arts Council. Panels will feature guests such as Courtney Chase (Blossom, Nick of Time), Dr. Serghino Walker (LPC, MS), and Dr. Katherine Marshall Woods (Licensed Media Psychologist).

#LoveWinsFilmFest

Founded by Long Island native Jaret Martino, the Love Wins Film Festival is a platform for bold storytelling, advocacy, and community celebration. The festival partners with national organizations such as The Safe Center and the National Coalition Against Domestic Violence, with representatives hosting panels and providing critical resources during the event.

Martino shares, "As a Long Island native, member of the LGBTQIA+ community, and someone with Cherokee Indian heritage who believes in the power of storytelling to spark empathy and change, I am so unbelievably proud of this festival. The Love Wins Film International Festival brings us together to witness transformative films, engage in meaningful dialogue, and celebrate diverse artistry. It's a powerful reminder that love always wins."

The festival supports independent filmmakers with awards, streaming distribution, and events in New York and Los Angeles. Its mission centers on women's empowerment, LGBTQIA+ representation, diversity, inclusion, and wellness.

About The Plaza Cinema & Media Arts Center: A nonprofit arts hub in Patchogue, The Plaza offers film, classes, and events that enrich the community.

About LGBT Network: Since 1993, this nonprofit has created safe spaces for LGBTQ+ individuals and their families across Long Island and Queens.
