“In times of change, people search for direction,” said Graziosi. “This event is about showing everyday people that the next chapter of their life doesn’t require permission, credentials, or outside validation—just the right tools, guidance, and support.”

Each day of Thrive In 2025 will kick off at 10:00 AM PT / 1:00 PM ET and run approximately 2–3 hours. Participants will learn how to clarify their unique value, package their skills or story into a scalable offer, and attract the right audience using today’s most effective platforms and tools.

Topics covered will include:

- How to attract the right audience using today’s tools and platforms
- How to scale with simplicity, speed, and confidence—without overwhelm
