From improved product pages and search functionality to cleaner navigation and mobile responsiveness, everything was built to help customers get what they need faster.”

Dan Kidney, marketing specialist at Insight Vision

With a modernized look and feel, improved user experience and a powerful new e-commerce platform, the upgraded website, InsightVisionCameras.com, reflects Insight Vision’s continued commitment to digital innovation and customer experience and marks a significant step forward in the company’s digital transformation. With a fresh design, expanded product information and secure direct online purchasing, the new website offers a streamlined customer experience and was built with sewer and pipeline professionals in mind.

“We designed the new site with the customer in mind,” said Dan Kidney, marketing specialist at Insight Vision. “From improved product pages and search functionality to cleaner navigation and mobile responsiveness, everything was built to help customers get what they need faster.”

Insight Vision designs flexible push cameras and maneuverable crawler systems that feature high-resolution imaging, advanced navigation capabilities, and real-time data transmission. Its products deliver clear recordings of hard-to-reach underground places and small, enclosed structures.

The website now presents refreshed content with new, high-quality imagery featuring its push camera and crawler systems, all while maintaining the company's signature and distinct brand identity.

Key Features of the New Website:

- Modern Visual Identity: A refreshed design that reflects the evolving brand and commitment to innovation
- Smarter E-Commerce: An integrated e-commerce system replaces third-party limitations, offering more security, speed and control
- Expanded Product Pages: More than 70 pages of refreshed content that now feature enhanced product descriptions, specifications and features
- Fresh Imagery: Optimized assets and strategically incorporated brand design elements enhance the site's visual presentation for a polished and professional look
- Streamlined Navigation: A user-centric layout makes it easier to browse, compare and purchase pipeline inspection systems, accessories and replacement parts

"The refreshed website more accurately reflects the Insight Vision brand and provides a seamless, user-friendly browsing experience," said Kidney.
