Warriors Heart announces the Memorial Day weekend unveiling of a new healing mural titled, "Service is a Lifestyle" and "Warriors HeArt Gallery" at the Grunt Style headquarters in downtown San Antonio, Texas.

Warriors Heart Texas Executive Director Christina Moreno emphasizes, "This collaborative mural and artwork are a public testament to healing, purpose, and the strength it takes to come home from the battles within."

Created by Warriors reclaiming their lives, the "Warriors HeArt Gallery" invites the community to witness the transformation that happens when creativity becomes part of recovery. Many of the art pieces will feature QR codes linking to audio recordings of the Warriors' personal stories behind their creations — offering visitors a deeper, more intimate connection to the healing journeys represented in the gallery.

The mural and more than 60 pieces of artwork were created by Warriors - many who have completed Warriors Heart's specialized 42-day inpatient treatment program - along with contributions from Warriors Heart staff. Each piece reflects a personal story of service, struggle, and recovery through art.

Art therapy is an integral part of Warriors Heart's treatment, where clients work closely with the clinical team to use creative expression as a way to process emotions, confront trauma, and support their healing journey.

The "Service is a Lifestyle" mural and "Warriors HeArt Gallery" represents the dedication of warriors to servicing their community. The helmets at the bottom represent the population Warriors Heart serves, which includes military, veterans and first responders.

Warriors Heart Creative Art Instructor Dan Monreal explains the overall "Service is a Lifestyle" theme of this healing mural and special exhibit at Grunt Style HQ San Antonio, Texas.

Creative Art Instructor Dan Monreal explains the overall theme of this mural and special exhibit, "The idea is that service is a lifestyle. That is the theme of the art event that we'll be having all the way through to November. The idea is strength, honor, and stability."

This collaborative mural and artwork are a public testament to healing, purpose, and the strength it takes to come home from the battles within."

Christina Moreno, Warriors Heart Texas Executive Director

Monreal further clarifies the mural's American eagle theme, "The design idea came from of a painting that was done a few years back by a client that came through our program. The American eagle seems to be one of those symbolic images that represent them and their strengths and their honor. So, we thought it was fitting to incorporate the American eagle into this storefront design, along with the paint brushes, the palette of color, tubes of paint that we normally always go through when we're painting something in the Warriors Heart Art studio."

Monreal adds, "When warriors go through our program, we want them to go in and celebrate themselves in a way that they'll be able to carry the art idea with them back home, share it with friends, family members, strengthen their sobriety, and then just enjoy art because art is such a beautiful therapy."

To make a further positive impact on the community, the "Warriors HeArt Gallery" artwork will also be available for auction towards the end of the exhibit. All proceeds will go to Irreverent Warriors (<https://irreverentwarriors.com>) and Warriors Heart (<https://warriorsheart.com/connect>) to help more Warriors heal.
