“

The organizations we choose to support often reflect the passions of our dedicated team members who are deeply engaged in their local communities”

Dian Franks

The Union Bank Co. continues to prioritize giving back to organizations that work directly with families and individuals facing hardship. Donation recipients include a diverse group of nonprofits making meaningful changes across Ohio and beyond:

- Family Promise of Lima and Allen County
- Black Heritage Council of Marion County
- Habitat for Humanity of Paulding County
- Habitat for Humanity of Wood County
- BAPs Charities

- Caring and Sharing Food Pantry
- Sandusky County Habitat for Humanity

This latest round of giving reflects The Union Bank Co.’s ongoing commitment to corporate responsibility and community connection. The bank looks forward to continuing its partnerships and deepening its impact in the months ahead.

“The organizations we choose to support often reflect the passions of our dedicated team members who are deeply engaged in their local communities,” said Dian Franks, marketing director at The Union Bank Co. “They champion a wide range of impactful causes close to their hearts, and we are committed to giving back to each and every one of them.”

Through its charitable giving, The Union Bank Company reinforces its long-standing commitment to building stronger, more resilient, and connected communities across Ohio.
