

DocGenie Partners with Certified Labs to Ensure Safe and Verified Home Sample Collection

Trusted diagnostics meet expert care—DocGenie now offers certified home sample collection with seamless doctor consultations, all on one platform.

GURUGRAM, HARYANA, INDIA, June 12, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- DocGenie, India's leading doctor-led telemedicine platform, today announced a partnership with NABL and ICMR-certified diagnostic laboratories to offer reliable and hygienic home sample collection services across India. This collaboration strengthens DocGenie's commitment to delivering comprehensive healthcare by integrating lab testing directly with its core online doctor consultation services.

As more patients choose digital-first healthcare, DocGenie makes it easy to manage health completely online — from booking lab tests and collecting samples at home, to discussing results with experienced doctors via secure video consultations, all within a single platform.

Diagnostics only become meaningful when paired with expert interpretation—DocGenie ensures both, right at your doorstep”

DocGenie's new home sample collection service enables patients nationwide to:

□ Book a wide range of lab tests online without the need for any app download.

□ Schedule sample collection at home by trained, certified phlebotomists who adhere to strict hygiene and safety protocols.

- Receive verified digital reports on time.
- Have their test reports automatically shared with DocGenie doctors for review before or during their online consultation.

This integrated model ensures that diagnostic testing complements the core telemedicine experience. Instead of patients navigating multiple systems, they receive clear medical guidance on test results through online video consultations with qualified doctors — all from the comfort of their home.

All labs partnered with DocGenie are NABL and ICMR certified, guaranteeing high standards of quality, accuracy, and safety. The labs follow rigorous protocols to ensure samples are collected and processed with complete care.

DocGenie offers an extensive catalog of diagnostic tests, including:

- General health and preventive screenings
- Full body and organ-specific panels
- Chronic disease monitoring (e.g., diabetes, thyroid, cardiac health)
- Infection markers and vitamin assessments

This service is accessible across metropolitan and tier-2 cities throughout India, making quality diagnostics and doctor consultations available even in remote locations.

DocGenie's platform removes the traditional barriers between diagnostics and medical advice. Patients no longer need to visit labs, download multiple apps, or coordinate between different providers. With everything integrated into one user-friendly website, DocGenie delivers a seamless healthcare experience.

The service requires no subscription or app installation, focusing instead on accessibility, transparency, and high clinical standards. This approach reinforces DocGenie's position as a trusted partner for individuals and families seeking convenient, quality healthcare in India.
