

AI in Healthcare: Toronto Tech Week Session on AI Risks, Innovation, and AI Governance

Led by Dr. Jodie Lobana & TeraTera, this Toronto Tech Week session explores AI's impact on healthcare and the governance needed to guide it responsibly.

TORONTO, ONTARIO, CANADA, June 26, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As part of Toronto Tech Week, a compelling online session titled "Healing with Intelligence: How AI Is Reshaping Healthcare" will be held on Friday, June 27, 2025, at 10:00 AM EST. Hosted by Dr. Jodie Lobana, Executive Director of TeraTera Collaborations Inc., this session will explore the promise and perils of artificial intelligence (AI) in healthcare—highlighting breakthroughs, risks, and the governance needed to ensure AI serves humanity.

Register to attend: <https://lu.ma/sikp14y9>

Designed for public, the session will cover: (1) How AI is transforming diagnostics, hospital operations, and drug discovery; (2) The rising risks of data bias, misinformation, and opaque decision-making; and (3) The essential governance and controls needed to ensure ethical, safe, and inclusive AI in healthcare

With AI increasingly embedded in clinical decisions, operational systems, and patient engagement tools, this event offers a timely opportunity to reflect on what responsible adoption should look like—before the technology outpaces oversight.

"At TeraTera, we believe AI should serve humanity—not the other way around. This event is part of our mission to equip people with the knowledge and safeguards needed to use AI for the social good."

— Dr. Jodie Lobana, Executive Director, TeraTera Collaborations Inc.
