Since its launch, Springboard's Healthcare & Technology Council has played a vital role in expanding opportunities for women entrepreneurs building high-growth businesses at the intersection of health and technology. Council members offer targeted mentorship, sector-specific insight, and business development support that directly benefits founders navigating complex and regulated markets.

"Our Healthcare & Technology Council reflects the breadth and depth of experience needed to support the women leading today's most innovative health and tech ventures," said Umbreen Bhatti, CEO of Springboard Enterprises. "This year's council will build on that foundation, helping founders translate bold ideas into sustainable, scalable companies."

The 2025 cohort of Springboard's Healthcare & Technology Accelerator will be announced in the coming weeks.
