PERTH, AUSTRALIA, August 12, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Chartered Institute of Professional Certifications

“

With the CSC™ program, we aim to cultivate a new generation of planners and leaders who will shape sustainable cities that are future-ready and people-centered.”

Bok Yan Lo

(www.charteredcertifications.com), a globally recognized authority in certified executive programs and professional development, is proud to announce the launch of its latest professional certification – the Certified Sustainable City Planner (CSC™) program. Developed in collaboration with leading sustainability faculty leader, this certification is designed to empower professionals with the comprehensive expertise needed to design and implement sustainable, inclusive, and climate-resilient urban environments.

The CSC™ program addresses the growing global demand for urban planning professionals who can drive sustainable development in cities while balancing environmental, economic, and social priorities. As the effects of climate change, rapid urbanization, and resource scarcity continue to challenge urban communities, the need for skilled planners who can build resilient and livable cities has never been more urgent.

The robust curriculum of the CSC™ program explores a wide range of critical topics, including climate-responsive urban design, sustainable transportation, green infrastructure, inclusive land use planning, smart city technologies, and circular economy strategies. The program combines theoretical knowledge with real-world applications through interactive case studies, policy simulations, and practical planning exercises, equipping participants to take on leadership roles in sustainable urban development.

“Sustainable city planning is at the forefront of solving some of the most pressing challenges our societies face today—from climate resilience to equitable access and environmental protection,” said Bok Yan Lo, Managing Director of the Chartered Institute of Professional Certifications. “With the CSC™ program, we aim to cultivate a new generation of planners and leaders who will shape sustainable cities that are future-ready and people-centered.”

The CSC™ program adheres to the highest standards of professional learning and is globally recognized for its relevance and rigor. Participants can choose from a flexible learning format that includes both self-paced online modules and live, instructor-led sessions, making the program accessible to professionals across different time zones and career stages.

Upon successful completion of the CSC™ program, participants will earn the CSC™ designation—a prestigious credential that recognizes proven expertise in sustainable city planning and demonstrates a commitment to advancing urban sustainability on a global scale.
