"Our program will help local healthcare employers better serve their communities, while allowing students to graduate debt-free and begin a career in the dental field," said Nancy West, Clarksville Dental Assistant School Program Manager.

Clarksville's newest dental assistant school prepares students to work alongside other professionals in the dental field, through a curriculum that helps students graduate debt-free in 12 weeks. Students participate in onsite, hands-on labs through a local dental partner clinic. They conclude the certification with an 80-hour externship, one that allows learners to work under the direct guidance of experienced dental professionals in Tennessee.

The goal is to make hands-on, dental assistant training accessible while helping students to graduate debt-free and save tens of thousands of dollars compared to traditional training options. To accomplish this goal, Clarksville Dental Assistant School offers flexible payment options. Students can choose to pay in full or choose from a variety of plan options. Students can also work with the school to create a custom payment plan that aligns with their budget and needs.

By attending Clarksville Dental Assistant School, students will grow industry-ready in weeks, developing skills in office sterilization, dental anatomy and physiology, radiography, dental instruments, and digital charting. Additionally, students train on administration skills in billing and coding, maintaining patient electronic health records, and general office management.

“Opening a dental assistant school in Clarksville aligns with our commitment to make career-focused education more accessible,” said Chris Lofton, chief executive officer at Zollege. “We’re proud to support local students as they gain the skills and confidence to enter a fast-growing and essential profession.”
