Powering the Future: Soriano on EV Innovation, U.S. Manufacturing, and Market Evolution, Soriano will dive into the rapidly evolving landscape of E-mobility

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, August 18, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Marco Antonio Soriano IV, Chairman and CEO of The Soriano Group & Family Office, will take center stage at the prestigious Family Office & Private Wealth Legacy Summit 2025, hosted at the Parrish Art Museum in Water Mill, NY, on August 26-27, 2025. Soriano, a globally recognized leader in finance, technology, and sustainable mobility, will present two compelling sessions: Powering the Future: EV Innovation, U.S. Manufacturing, and Market Evolution and When Business is Personal:

Mastering Relationship Management in Family Offices.

We are thrilled to have Soriano, his presentations on EV innovation and relationship management will inspire attendees to navigate the future of wealth with purpose and innovation.”

David Leibowitz, Executive Manager at OPAL

The summit, organized by Opal Group, is a premier gathering for family office executives, ultra-high-net-worth individuals, wealth managers, and investors. Held at 279 Montauk Hwy, Water Mill, NY 11976, the event will explore transformative trends in wealth management, including generational wealth transfer, technological advancements, and sustainability. Soriano’s presentations are expected to be highlights, offering actionable insights into the future of electric vehicle (EV) innovation and the art of building enduring relationships in family office management.

In his session Powering the Future: Marco Antonio Soriano on EV Innovation, U.S. Manufacturing, and Market Evolution (August 27, 2025, at 11:30 am), Soriano will dive into the rapidly evolving landscape of electric mobility. As the leader of Soriano Motori Corp, a brand renowned for blending Italian design heritage with cutting-edge EV technology, Soriano will share how The Soriano Group is driving innovation in the U.S. manufacturing sector.

Drawing from his family's legacy—rooted in the creation of Spain's first motorcycle brand by his grandfather, Ricardo Soriano, in 1939—Soriano will discuss the strategic revival of Soriano Motori as a leader in electric motorcycles and sustainable mobility. Attendees can expect insights into how his firm is leveraging AI, blockchain, and sustainable practices to shape the future of transportation. "E-mobility is at the heart of our plans," Soriano stated in a recent interview with Crain Currency. "We're working on electric motorcycles, scooters, bicycles, and beyond, all while prioritizing sustainability."

Soriano will also highlight The Soriano Group's €30 million capital raise to fuel expansion in the U.S. and Spain, emphasizing the role of family offices in supporting scalable, eco-conscious ventures. His presentation will address market trends, technological advancements, and the economic impact of revitalizing U.S. manufacturing through EV innovation.

Mastering Relationship Management in Family Offices

In his second session, When Business is Personal: Mastering Relationship Management in Family Offices (August 27, 2025, at 8:45 am), Soriano will explore the human side of wealth management. As a fourth-generation leader of The Soriano Group, he brings a unique perspective on fostering trust and collaboration across generations and stakeholders. This panel, moderated by Lindsey Sichel Rubinstein of FBE, will feature Soriano alongside other industry leaders, including Robert Cocuzzo of Jackson Point Publishing and Richard Zimmerman of WE Family Offices.

Soriano will share strategies for building resilient, long-term relationships that drive success in family offices. His approach, informed by decades of experience in strategic negotiations and private equity, emphasizes aligning business objectives with personal values. "Success extends beyond financial performance," Soriano noted in a LinkedIn post. "It encompasses the sustainable and strategic impact we deliver to those we serve."
