Master's Transportation is actively hiring for a variety of manufacturing and automotive service roles, including Mechanical Engineers, Automotive Manufacturing Technicians, Quality Control Technicians, Production Supervisors, Automotive Technicians, Transportation Coordinators and Maintenance and Grounds Technicians. These positions offer hands-on opportunities in a climate-controlled facility designed for year-round comfort and efficiency.

As a company with over 20 years in Missouri, Master's Transportation is committed to creating new jobs and growing within our Kansas City community.”

Rita Luukkonen, General Counsel at Master's Transportation

On the administrative side, the company is also seeking Inside Sales Representatives, Business Coordinators, Purchasing Specialists, and Business Development Representatives. These in-house roles are ideal for professionals with expertise in business, sales, and administration who want to contribute to the company's continued growth.

“Our new facility was designed so our manufacturing team can work in a climate-controlled, comfortable space year-round and enjoy exceptional benefits,” said Rita Luukkonen, General Counsel at Master’s Transportation. “By putting employee well-being first, we’re able to deliver better service and greater satisfaction to our customers.”

Master’s Transportation’s new campus features a 252,000-square-foot production facility, a 36,000-square-foot Class A office, and nearly 1 million square feet of bus parking. The advanced building envelopes and geothermal HVAC system keep indoor temperatures between 68°F and 82°F, ensuring a comfortable environment in every season. Integrated air filtration and indoor air quality technologies further enhance the workspace.

“As a company with over 20 years in Missouri, Master’s Transportation is committed to creating new jobs and growing within our Kansas City community,” said Luukkonen. “Our leadership team values our people and supports their growth and positive employee experience. For those looking to contribute, build on their skills, and work together for shared success, it’s an exciting time to join the company.”

By bringing all operations under one roof, Master’s Transportation aims to foster a collaborative environment that drives innovation and professional growth. Employees benefit from competitive wages, 15 days of paid vacation, 12 paid holidays, healthcare, and a 401(k) plan with a company match.

The new headquarters is located at 14655 Prospect Ave, Kansas City, 64146 Mo. To learn more and apply for open positions, visit masterstransportation.com.
