Khalil Jezini. “We are about bringing people together, having conversations that have meaning where people can feel good again and achieving that social media experience.”

The focus of Kornerz is on live, human interaction nine-people per room forums which consists of multiple platforms all designed for meaningful, face-to-face conversation at the mobile app includes:

- Nooks, which are spontaneous 9 people per room video chats.
- Loops / Sparks, these are threaded discussions, including quick prompts

“Kornerz is also about being transparent and being a community-governed platform where there are no secret algorithms deciding on what people see,” said Mr. Jezini. “Every “Korner” is a purpose-driven community, a world of thinkers. We have quarterly town halls and the user votes on updates. There is data privacy and ad-free design to protect users’ attention and trust.”

Khalil Jezini bases Kornerz foundation on the notion of mental health, where the app has that friendly non-confrontational design. There are no public likes or follower counts, which leads to less comparison anxiety.
