

ClaimNotify.org Launches to Help Californians Reclaim Millions in Unclaimed Money

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, August 22, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ClaimNotify.org, a new online tool and educational hub for all things unclaimed assets, launched today to help Californians easily navigate the complex world of abandoned assets. With a mission to become the trusted national resource, the platform empowers residents to recover funds and assets that rightfully belong to them.

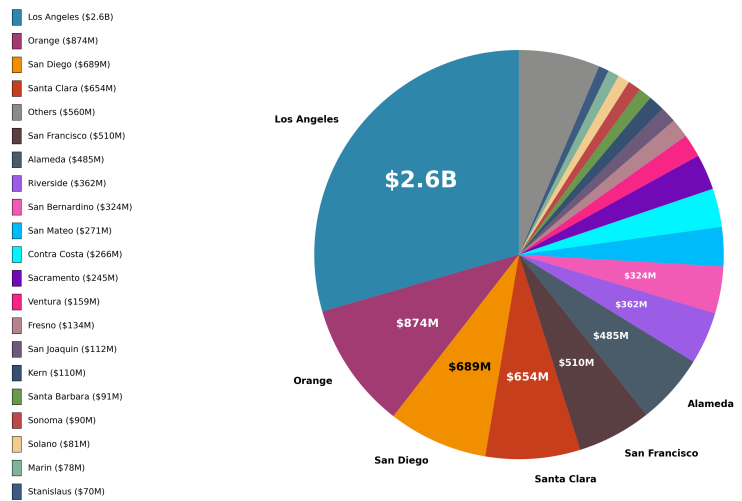

Unclaimed assets– ranging from forgotten bank accounts and uncashed checks to insurance benefits and safe deposit box contents– are currently valued at over $2.5 billion in Los Angeles County and $600 million in San Diego County, according to recent public notices. Until now, finding and reclaiming these funds has been a confusing and time-consuming process.

The launch comes at a pivotal moment: on September 4, 2025, new California code changes– driven by the passage of SB 822, which expands the state’s Unclaimed Property Law to include digital financial assets– will make it easier for residents to submit claims online. ClaimNotify.org will offer up-to-the-minute guidance on these changes, ensuring no eligible Californian misses their opportunity to reclaim what’s theirs.

ClaimNotify.org consolidates updates, official resources, and step-by-step guides for unclaimed assets across the nation.

ClaimNotify.org streamlines the process, offering:

- A Centralized Resource for Californians: One place to access news, updates, and verified links for unclaimed asset searches, starting with California and expanding to other states.
- Educational Tools: Easy-to-follow guides explaining what unclaimed assets are, how they get lost, and how residents can submit claims.
- Breaking Updates: Timely alerts on new policies, large asset disclosures, and deadlines for filing claims.
- Step-by-Step Support: Clear instructions to help users submit claims directly, without costly third-party services.

“Unclaimed assets can be life-changing, but most people don’t even realize they exist– let alone how to recover them,” said a ClaimNotify.org spokesperson. “Our goal is to be the go-to source for accurate, accessible, and timely information, so Californians can claim what’s theirs without unnecessary stress or confusion.”

ClaimNotify plans to expand its coverage to include news and resources from multiple states, helping residents nationwide access the billions in unclaimed assets sitting in government coffers.
