

James Hays Joins IFC Wealth Management as Executive Chairman

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, August 28, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Jim Hays has joined IFC Wealth Management, parent company of IFC Advisors, as executive chairman. Mr. Hays is a respected financial services leader with more than 30 years of experience. He previously served as president and chief executive officer of Wells Fargo Advisors and led Wells Fargo's Wealth and Investment Management Client Relationship Group. Today, he works closely with financial services companies and technology providers, advising and supporting firms that are shaping the future of wealth management. He also holds board and advisory positions with several innovative organizations across the industry.

"I'm excited to join a firm that has created a model that intentionally embeds impact into the DNA of wealth management," Hays said. "With their wealth management process, Purpose Architecture™, IFC Wealth Management is building an approach that integrates financial success with philanthropic benefits."

According to IFC Managing Partner, Marc Ackerman, "As executive chairman, Jim brings a highly unique combination of talents, experience, wisdom and discernment which will help guide IFC's long-term strategy and focus on our purpose of positively impacting individuals, families and communities."

IFC Wealth Management is broadening its footprint across the country through both organic growth and strategic partnerships. With a model that emphasizes purpose-driven planning, innovation, and client care, the firm is increasingly recognized as a destination for advisors and clients seeking a values-aligned approach to wealth management.
