The Firm With a Strong Mission

Mark Machaalani founded this firm in 2013 with a strong mission to deliver compassionate legal services to Australians. Mark started his career at large, prestigious corporate firms, but soon realized something important was missing: a real personal connection with clients. He was also disheartened by the industry's obsession with billing and revenue, instead of being client-focused.

Determined to do things differently, Mark set out to establish a firm that stands out in the crowd—a firm that simplifies the legal jargon, makes legal terms understandable, builds win-win relationships, and is obsessed with clients' success. Now it has grown into a firm that thrives mostly on word-of-mouth referrals from its satisfied clients. Headquartered in Sydney, the firm has offices across the city, including Parramatta, North Sydney, Marrickville, Miranda, and Bondi, with additional offices in Melbourne, Brisbane, and the Gold Coast.

The firm consists of a network of family lawyers, senior and junior associates, and paralegals who specialize in handling a wide range of legal matters, including property settlement, child custody, family law mediation, spousal maintenance, prenup agreements, domestic violence, binding financial agreements, and more. Unified Lawyers offers 24/7 support and free consultations. Contact them today to get personalized support.
