“We're not just competing—we're leading. This top 1% Crunchbase score reflects the reputation, relentless innovation, respect, energy, relevance, and trust we've built globally.”

Esteban Jaworski

With over three decades of innovation, 5,000+ client engagements, and a plethora of books, articles, and whitepapers pioneering brand thought leadership—from the NBE Effect to bestselling books—SXTC'S DYADICA has consistently redefined what brand strategy and brand innovation can be. And what competitive advantage and impact they can create for brands.

Unique in the industry, the firm isn't just about logos and pretty pictures, and ivory tower strategy, it also actually front-line builds and manages brands (with full P&L).

“We are blessed to have world class CMO's, brand and marketing directors, brand strategists, brand managers and functional design/creative experts with top MBA's and PhD's on our team. We are totally unlike your usual advertising or brand agency," says Esteban Jaworski, a Global Director. "That was purposely the case from day one. We were obsessed with getting the best and smartest talent globally— call it marketing snobbery. But you can't function without those top-notch technical business skills. We simply went out and brought in brand managers with top MBA's with years of front-line, battle-proven experience regardless of expense. It is a great formula and has proven to work. So much so, our reputation proceeds us—we don't need to advertise, use social media of any type, chase after customers with sales pitches, or bother with awards. Brands and their owners come to us because of the financial results and market leadership we create. We even get major agencies come to us under NDAs to solve problems they run into and can't fix for their clients."

SXTC-DYADICA's relentless brand innovation, brand strategy prowess, pioneering ideation frameworks, and brand management ethos, combined with its creative firepower and cultural fluency, have made it the go-to partner for visionary companies across FMCG, consumer products, tech, luxury, fashion, media, retail, and beyond to build, manage, evolve and innovate their brands.

"This Crunchbase score isn't just a milestone—it's a reflection of the reputation we've built," says Esteban. "SXTC Global Brand Consulting and DYADICA have never been about following competitors and being part of a market offering. We've spent 30+ years designing the future of
