-- TradeDay, a leading futures prop firm, has been awarded Best Payout Policy at the prestigious Funded Trading Awards 2025. This recognition highlights TradeDay's commitment to building one of the fairest, most transparent, and trader-focused payout systems in the prop trading industry.

Steve Miley

The award acknowledges TradeDay's industry-leading payout structure, which sets the standard for flexibility, fairness, and sustainability:

Day One Payouts – traders can withdraw profits from the very first day of funding, with no cooling-off period.

- Up to 95% Profit Share – payouts start at 80% and scale to 95% as traders grow.
- Clear, Structured Model – 80% on the first $50k, 90% up to $100k, and 95% beyond.
- Buffer Zone Protection – designed to safeguard account stability while allowing traders to access their earnings.

Since its founding in 2020, TradeDay has combined decades of professional trading experience with policies designed to put traders first. Its payout approach balances transparency and trader success with a model built for long-term sustainability - processing hundreds of payouts every single week.

James Thorpe, CEO of TradeDay, commented:

“Winning the Best Payout Policy award is a huge honour. From the start, we've been determined to build a prop firm that treats traders fairly, and payouts have always been at the centre of that. This recognition validates our approach and reinforces our mission – to create the most trader-friendly environment in the industry.”

The Funded Trading Awards recognise excellence across 15 categories, including Best Prop Firm, Best Dashboard, and Best Trader Support. Each award is judged by a panel of experienced traders and analysts, who evaluate firms on performance, transparency, innovation, and trader-centric policies.

TradeDay’s COO and Co-founder, Steve Miley, added:
