According to Everyday Health, reflexology's powerful influence has been felt globally, with it becoming a relied upon complementary therapy in modern times to aid in pain relief, sleep issues, digestive issues, and more. Similar to acupressure, a fellow technique drawn from Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM), foot reflexology safely targets specific points to elicit a myriad of healing benefits, all without the use of questionable chemicals.

Wong added, "External beauty begins from within. A core part of our philosophy is that when you feel your best internally, your natural radiance and beauty come out for all to see. As more American consumers seek natural options to improve their daily life, we are more than ready to provide the support and care they deserve."

Sold on Amazon.com, Walmart.com, and OneLavi.com, a 20-patch box of RestoreGlow costs $40.
