Through this initiative, ZipWave LLC is working with platform operators, network owners, and media groups to secure placement for both free-to-air and pay television channels. The company's growing portfolio includes regional cable and IPTV providers, major satellite operators, and new OTT platforms seeking to strengthen their content lineups.

Our team helps networks identify the right platforms, handle the commercial arrangements, and ensure smooth technical delivery.”
Michael Carswell, CEO of ZipWave LLC

ZipWave LLC, known for its family-friendly live TV service ZipWave TV in the United States, has built a strong global network of relationships with platforms across all continents. The company is now extending these relationships to offer carriage and distribution opportunities to independent, faith, family, lifestyle, and international channels looking to reach new audiences.

“Many broadcasters are searching for reliable partners who can navigate the complex world of global TV distribution,” said Michael Carswell, CEO of ZipWave LLC. “Our team helps networks identify the right platforms, handle the commercial arrangements, and ensure smooth technical delivery, whether it's through satellite uplink, fiber contribution, or OTT delivery."

This initiative is part of ZipWave LLC's broader consulting and distribution activities, which include facilitating revenue share models, licensing agreements, and whitelabel solutions for broadcasters and platform owners. ZipWave LLC also provides strategic guidance for channel owners looking to expand internationally, focusing on transparent deal structures and long-term growth.
