

Kuvings Outlines Upcoming Black Friday and Cyber Monday Offers for 2025

The Black Friday and Cyber Monday mega sale season is just around the corner!

IL, UNITED STATES, October 31, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Global premium kitchen appliance brand Kuvings is preparing for its annual Black Friday and Cyber Monday (BFCM) promotional period, during which customers can expect significant savings on its signature slow juicers and professional blender models.

With ongoing fluctuations in international tariff rates, many retailers have already adjusted product pricing. As a result, the upcoming Black Friday season may represent one of the final opportunities for customers to purchase Kuvings products at pre-tariff levels in certain regions.

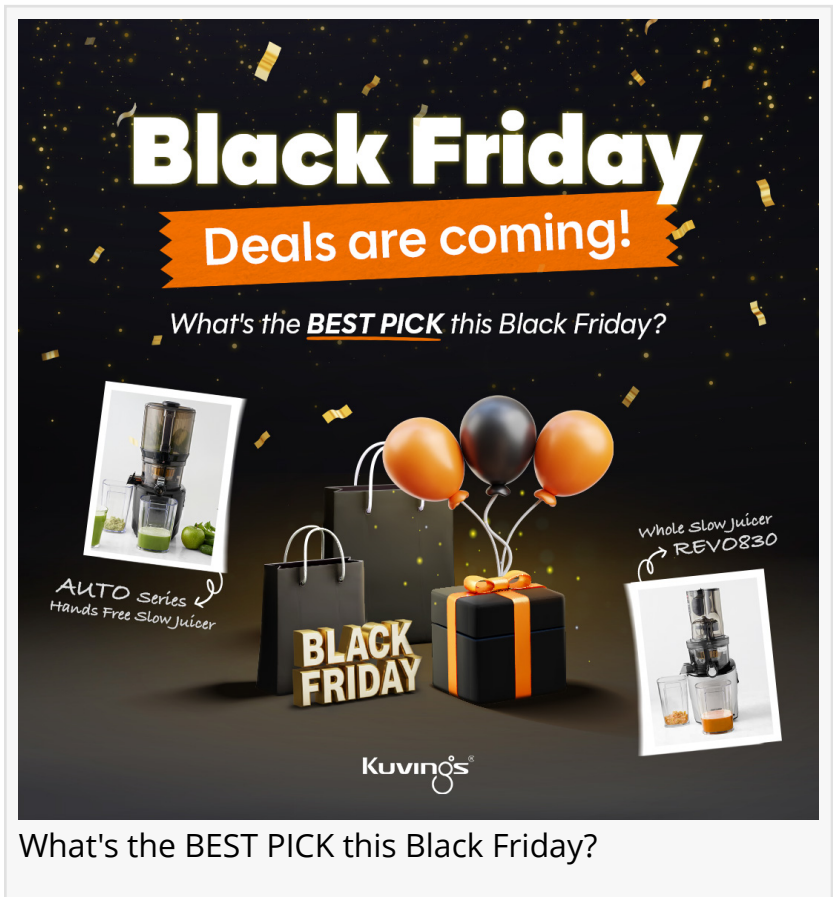

Last year, many of Kuvings juicers sold out early, and customers had to place backorders and wait up to two months for delivery. This year, you'll need to move even faster!

The official discount schedule hasn't been announced yet, so make sure to subscribe and stay alert for updates.

Kuvings' official U.S. store rarely gives advance notice — they often drop their sales without warning. So when it happens, we'll need to act quickly to grab the deal before it's gone!

□When is the BFCM sale period expected to start?

It's expected to start around November 15 or 22, but since sales often launch suddenly, it's best

The graphic features a dark background with gold confetti. At the top, the text "Black Friday" is in large white letters, with "Deals are coming!" in white on an orange banner below it. Underneath, it asks "What's the BEST PICK this Black Friday?". The central image shows a shopping bag, a gift box with an orange ribbon, and three balloons (two orange, one black). To the left, a Kuvings "AUTO Series Hands Free Slow Juicer" is shown in a white-bordered box. To the right, a "Whole Slow Juicer REV0830" is shown in a similar box. The Kuvings logo is at the bottom center of the graphic.
