Now in its 11th year of broadcast, Without Notes has become a global platform for unfiltered, deeply revealing conversations with the world's most accomplished and influential figures. Produced by award-winning video producer Jay Pearson, the program has earned critical praise for its intelligence, authenticity, and journalistic depth — delivering timeless dialogues that educate and inspire.

General Petraeus, a four-star general and former Director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), led U.S. and coalition forces during the Iraq and Afghanistan wars, where his innovative counterinsurgency strategies reshaped modern military doctrine. A graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point and holder of a Ph.D. in International Relations from Princeton University, Petraeus is widely recognized as one of the foremost thinkers on leadership, national security, and geopolitics.

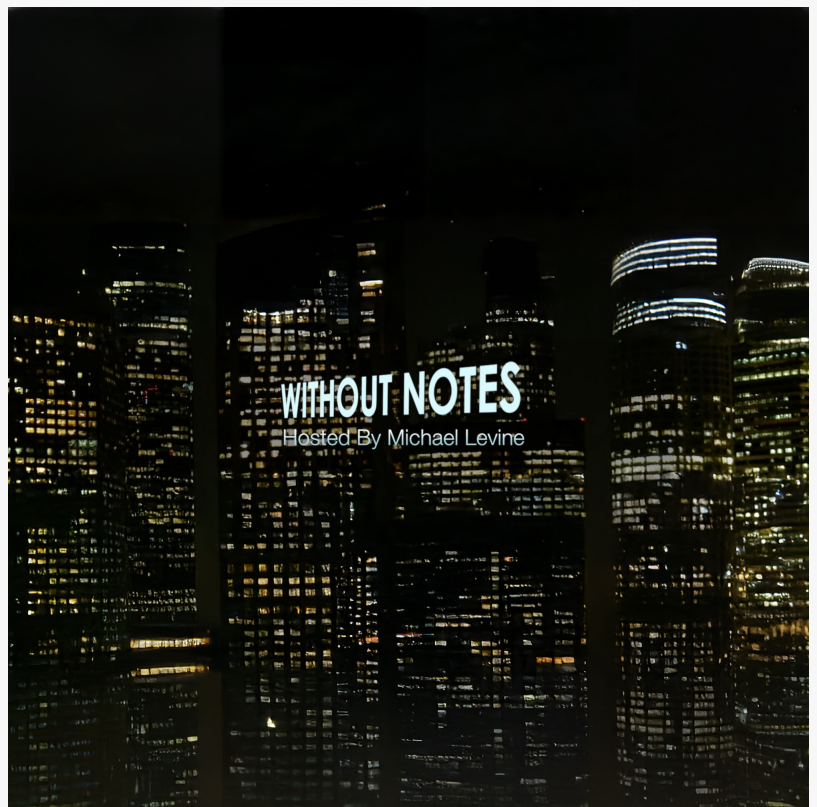

In this exclusive episode, Petraeus joins Michael Levine for an unguarded and wide-ranging conversation about the challenges of leadership in a fractured world, lessons learned from the battlefield, and the evolving role of America in the 21st century.

Michael Levine

“Few figures embody strategic intellect and public service like General Petraeus,” said Levine. “This conversation offers a rare look at the mind of a man who helped shape global history.”
